WhatsApp Community Guidelines

Connect. Learn. Help each other.

Welcome to the WP Ninjas India WhatsApp Community! This is where India's Microsoft endpoint management community connects, learns, and helps each other. A few ground rules keep it valuable for everyone.

How Our Community Is Structured

- Announcements group — admin-only posting. Official event updates, speaker announcements, and important news. Keep notifications on so you never miss anything.
- Discussion groups — open to all members for tech discussions, questions, and community chatter.
- Volunteers group — approval-based, for the event team.

Do

- Stay on topic — Intune, Autopilot, Windows, Entra, security, modern workplace, careers in IT, and event-related discussion
- Help generously — answer questions when you can; today's helper is tomorrow's asker
- Search before asking — scroll up; your question may already be answered
- Use threads/replies — reply to specific messages so conversations stay easy to follow
- Share knowledge freely — blog posts, scripts, tips, and community content are welcome
- Be patient with beginners — no question is too basic here

Don't

- No spam or unsolicited promotion — no product pitches, affiliate links, or marketing without admin approval. Sponsors have official channels
- No job spam — genuine job openings relevant to our community are welcome occasionally; bulk recruiter posts are not
- No forwarded chain messages — no “good morning” images, festival forwards, memes unrelated to tech, or viral forwards
- No unsolicited DMs — don't privately message members with sales pitches or mass outreach. Ask permission in the group first
- No sharing members' numbers or details outside the community without their consent
- No politics or religion debates — plenty of internet exists for that; this isn't it
- No harassment of any kind — our Community Code of Conduct applies fully here

Admin Actions

Admins may delete messages, mute, or remove members who violate these guidelines — repeat or serious violations result in removal without warning and may affect participation in WNI events. If you see something concerning, message an admin or email hello@wpninjas-india.com.

A Note on WhatsApp

Your phone number is visible to other members in groups you join — this is how WhatsApp works. By joining, you accept this. Never share OTPs or personal credentials with anyone, including people claiming to be admins. Admins will never ask for payments via DM — all ticket sales happen only via KonfHub.

By joining our WhatsApp Community, you agree to these guidelines and our Community Code of Conduct.
